

WHAT DOES THE BIBLE SAY ABOUT ATHEISM?

1. IT IS FOOLISH

The fool hath said in his heart, there is no God...(Psalm 14:1)

2. STUBBORNNESS AND IGNORANCE ARE ATHEISM'S PARENTS

And Pharaoh said, Who is the LORD, that I should obey his voice to let Israel go? I know not the LORD, neither will I let Israel go. (Exodus 5:2)

3. IT IS DANGEROUS

But the fearful, and unbelieving, and the abominable, and murderers, and whoremongers, and sorcerers, and idolaters, and all liars, shall have their part in the lake which burneth with fire and brimstone: which is the second death. (Revelation 21:8)

GOD IS LOVE

1 John 4:8 He that loveth not knoweth not God; for God is love.

Ezekiel 18:32 For I have no pleasure in the death of him that dieth, saith the Lord GOD: wherefore turn yourselves, and live ye.

God is love. He doesn't enjoy seeing people suffer. Pain and suffering exist because of the consequences of sin. Who is to blame for sin? The blame rests on the originator of sin. The father of sin is Satan. He leads people to deny the existence of God. They can see no consistency in the character of the God of the Bible, if He will torment with horrible tortures a portion of the human family to all eternity. Therefore atheists deny the Bible and its Author, and regard death as an eternal sleep.

THE TRUTH OF THE MATTER

The Son of man, Jesus Christ, did not come to destroy men's lives. He came to save them. However, those who reject Jesus and His law will sadly perish in the flames of hellfire. Although the unbelieving will perish, they don't burn forever in a place called Hell. Hellfire is kindled at the end of the world. (Matthew 13:40-42) Those who die in sin rest in their graves and rise in the resurrection of damnation to die the second death. (John 5:28-29, Ecclesiastes 3:20, Acts 2:29,34) The wicked will be burned up completely. (Isaiah 47:14, Malachi 4:1-3, Revelation 21:4) Hellfire has an end, and there is no such thing as an eternally burning place called Hell.

WHAT IS ATHEISM?

The atheists are those who deny the existence of God; this is called speculative atheism. Professing to believe in God, and yet acting contrary to this belief, is called practical atheism. Sadly, we find practical atheism in the churches. Satan calls the attention of skeptics to the perverse and immoral children of professed Christians, as the fruit of belief in God and the Bible. The careless find in their course an excuse for not giving themselves to Christ, and many who really desire to become Christians, are discouraged. These wayward Christians are successful agents of Satan.

Absurd and irrational as atheism is, it has had its votaries and martyrs. Sir Thomas Scott in his last moments cried, "Until this moment I believed that there was neither a God nor a hell. Now I know and feel that there are both, and that I am doomed to perdition by the just judgment of God."

THE ASTRONOMER AND THE ATHEIST

The story is told of an astronomer whose friend denied the existence of God. In order to show him the folly of his unbelief, the astronomer obtained a globe of the starry heavens, and placed it in the room where they were seated. On seeing it, his friend inquired where he got so beautiful a globe, and who was the maker.

"It was not made," answered the astronomer, "it came into existence of itself."

"You are jesting," said his friend; "that is impossible."

The astronomer answered: "My dear sir, you will not accept my word for it that this small body originated of itself, or came by chance, and yet you contend that those heavenly bodies of which this is but an inferior representation, came into existence without a Master-power of design." As he pursued this line of reasoning, the atheist saw and acknowledged the absurdity of his own position.

It takes a lot of faith to believe something came to exist out of nothing on its own. It is far easier to believe that an intelligent Creator made everything we see and hear. Faith in Scripture appears to be a far more intelligent and reasonable position to take.
